

About Humpback Whale

Humpbacks can grow upto 60 feet long and can weigh 40 tons..

Humpbacks heads are broad and rounded and covered with knobs, called tubercles.

Humpbacks typically travel alone or in small groups, called pods

Fun Fact 1

Newborn humpback calves are about the length of their mother's head.

Fun Fact 2

Like a human fingerprint, the tail of each humpback whale is unique.

Places where we can find Humpback Whales

In Australia, they are spotted at -

- Great Barrier Reef
- Warnambool
- Hobart

Paint Your Whale

